NEW ATTRACTIONS AT THE THEATERS

KEITH'S. Vaudeville.

That the English idea of "humor" is something utterly distinct from the American risibility tickler is inas the queen of the London music halls, who heads the Keith porgram. We cannot advocate the propriety of the Broadway risque priety of the Broadway risque touch, but in comparison with the British method, as exemplified by Miss Pollard, we feel that even "Gertie's Garter" is a thing of delicacy and subtle grace.

If this cockney coryphee business is the kind of thing King George might see in the London music alis, we applaud Queen Mary's courage and wisdom in making the King stay home in the evening also we sympathize with the London public's desire to secure the privilege of buying drinks after the theater. They must need some kind of a bracer.

In this funny sayings and the ridiculousness of his part of the act stands in strong contrast to the group of pretty girls who surround him and from time to time introduce snappy and fascinating entertainment.

Dove and Statzer, who open the performance, are a pair of good musicians as well as clever acrobates and their intercepted somersault is a genuine novelty in stage athletics.

Ford and Goodrich have enjoyable offering of nonsense and feminine absurdity in "Bits of This and That;" Baby Margaret, a little act-

GLEN ECHO PARK.

Despite the waning summer season, there is no diminution in the attendance at Glen Echo Park, where thousands of Washingtonians daily find rest and recreation. The daily find rest and recreation. The diversity of amusements is so great that the park carries an equal appeal to young and old of both sexes. On week day nights, dancing in the big open air ballroom never fails to draw its full quota of patronage, and the music furnished by Ochmann's capable orchestra is of just the right tempo. The mechanical devices possessed by the park—the giant derby, the whip and the carrousel—as well as the big midway with its score or more of diversions carry thrills aplenty. The picnic grounds are also a popular objective point and every facility is provided by the management of the park for the complete comfort of parties of this character.

MARSHALL HALL.

Dancing enthusiasts and picnickers, seeking relief from Sunday in the city took delight in the cool and picturesque trip to Marshall Hall, the oldest and one of the most popular summer resorts about Washington. Dancing in the new openington. Dancing in the new open-air pavilion that is situated on the air pavilion that is situated on the banks of the historic Potomac where the cool river breezes are forever astir, proved the most popular pas-time during the week, while the youngsters accompanying the many picnic parties made merry in the spacious sand piles and on the slides.

COSMOS. Vaudeville.

J. C. Mack, the widely known comedian and impersonator of "Mother Goose," with Simple Simon dicated by Daphne Pollard, billed nursery entertainment, heads a bill built for laughter this week at the Mack's inimitable characterization, his funny sayings and the ridicu-lousness of his part of the act stands in strong contrast to the theater. They must need some kind of a bracer.

American vaudeville fans are used to and like (we may as well admit it) a certain admixture of the clever risque, but a combination of the banal and unspeakable is really too much. Miss Pollard is such a pretty and charming little person that it seems a pity that she should employ her talents in such a line. Her numbers included: "I 'Ates Respectability," "Ragtime Microbe," "Cleopatra" and "Not Foy, Davd Warfield, Nazimova and
